TQS-9000 Family of Products Application
Consolidation

With the release of Version 7.0 of the Total Quality System 9000 Family of Products, ISP Software, Inc. has begun the process of consolidating all of our Total Quality System 9000 products. The consolidation of all of our products means that all of the TQS-9000 products will be rolled into one product. If you purchase Total Quality System 9000, Total Advanced Quality 9000, Total Corrective Action 9000, or Total Gage Control 9000, your product will be activated to your current purchase by the product key that is provided with your purchase. In addition the product key that is provided will initiate the number of users for your product that have been established by your purchase. (Either a single User, 2 User, 3 User, 4 User, or Site License.

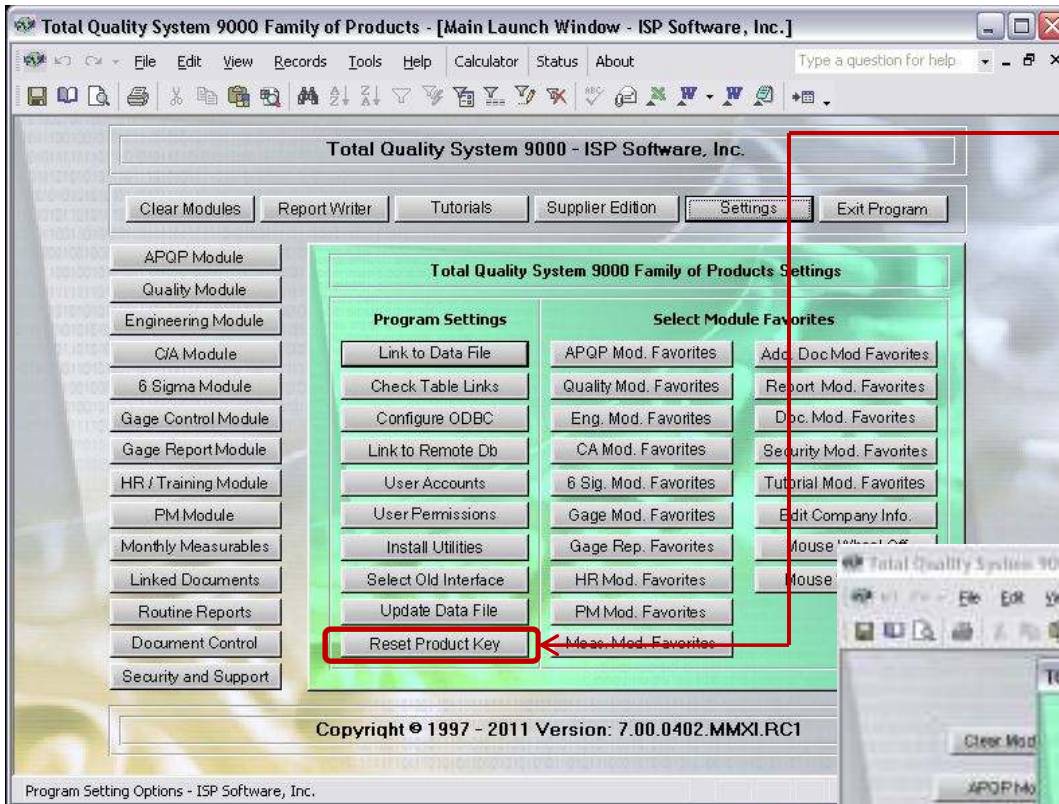

With your purchase of your TQS-9000 product you will receive your product key that must be entered the first time that you open the software. The product key activates your product for use.

The consolidation process of all the TQS-9000 Family of products will be completed with the next update release of our products. Some customers will receive this update with this current release and full implementation will be completed with release 7.25.

The goals of the product consolidation is to allow our customers to quickly and easily update their products by just re-entering their Product key. Customers that wish to upgrade from Total Advanced Quality 9000, Total Corrective Action 9000, or Total Gage Control 9000 to Total Quality System 9000 may do so by simply re-initiating their product with the new product key that will be provided with your upgrade. Similarly, if you wish to add additional users, you may do so by just entering the new product key that will be provided with your purchase.

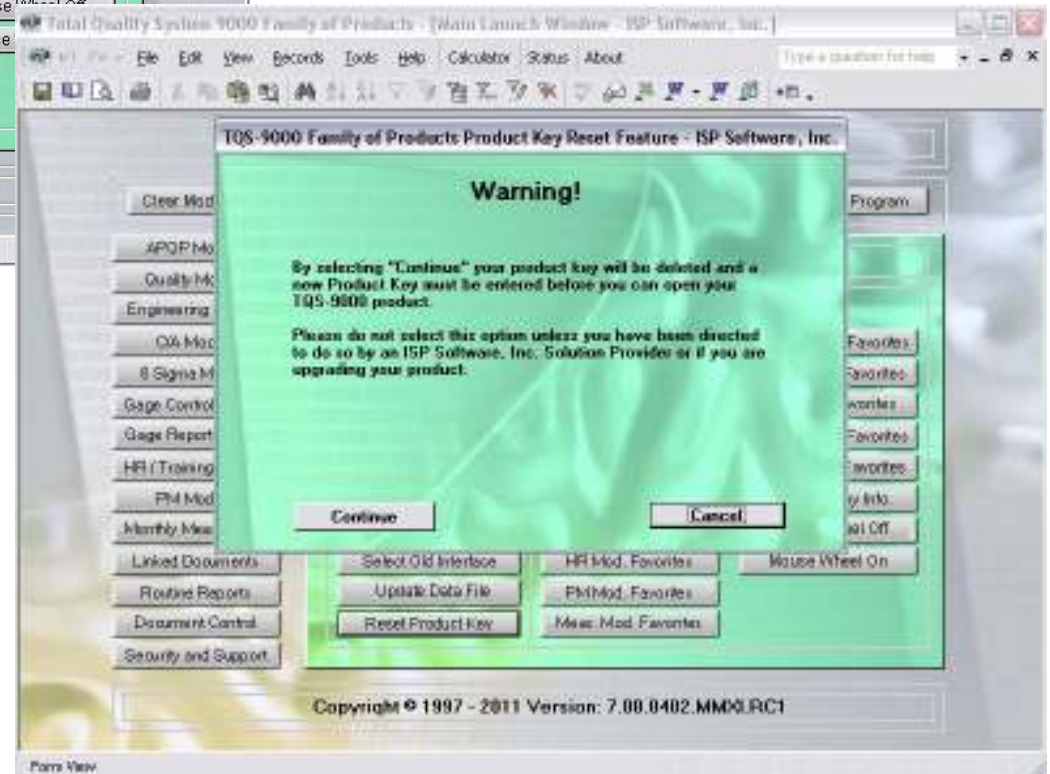

Additionally be consolidating all of products we will be better able to maintain consistency in all of our products, provide better customer service, and to provide all of our products and yearly maintenance agreements at the lowest possible cost for our customers.

If you have upgraded your product or purchased additional user licenses you will wish to re-enter your new product key code that will be provided.

To enter your new key code, simply go to “Settings” module and click on the “Reset Product Key” button and re-enter your key code in the screen that is provided. You will need to restart you product for the changes to become effective.
